While suffering a few days since from a violent stack of the Cho-a Mortus, I was recommended by a friend to make a trial of your sam of Moscatelle, (of the ceiperity of which I had not before ref.) and I was as much gratified as assonished to find that the first heard,) and I was as much gratified as assumined to find that the first wine glass full I took greatly amelineathd my pairs, and that, on taking a second desc, I got completely well. With this bottle which I had from you, I received a pamphlet containing the names of several gratifician well known in the city highly recommending your mediciae, and I do n't know that I can render a better service to the pablic than by adding my name to the list. If you think proper to use it for such a purpose, you are quite at theery to do so.

EDUCATION FOR BOYS-AT THE WASH-

DUCATION FOR HOVS—AT THE WASHLINGTON INSTITUTE.—A new term will commence, after the annual vacation, on Wednesday, the let of September. Pupils are received at the age of six or seven years; and the foundations of a proper education for any station in society are carefully laid, by unremitting efforts for the early estab ishment of good health, good principles, good manners, and good scholarstip.

A successful experiment of more than a quarter of a century, under the control of the subscribers and their predocessors, has shown the adaptation of the means employed to the attainment of these desirable ends. The several assistants are grathenen of much experience and tried ability. The course of instruction is comprehensive and full—both in the classical and commercial branches. Music, Drawing, Modern Languages, &c are tasight by accomplished and native masters. All the immstes of the establishment are associated as members of one family—at table and elsewhere; and coostant attention is given to the cultivation of refused and polished manners, and virtuous and honorable principles. The health of all under their care receives the special supervision of one of the principals, with whom medicine has been a professional study.

The Institute, though removed from the crowded sections of the city, is yet so accessible, by railroad and otherwise, that the friends of the pupils may reach it, on any emergency, in half at hour, from the most distant quarters of the town.

For any further information that may be desired, parents and guardians are referred to Drs. Neilson, Cheeseman, Dering and Bulkley, &c.; or to Messra, Jonu, Robt, and Wm. Goodbue, Russel H.

LADIES & GENTLEMEN'S WIG-MAKER,

HAIR DRESSER AND PERFUMER: WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. 200 Chizkam-Square.
TO THE PUBLIC.—Indestberriber would inform his Pattons and the Lasties and Gentlemen of New-York generally hat he has removed from his old store, 98 Chathamest, to his process location, 200 Chatham-square.

Having been at considerable expense in fitting up this establishment, he has the pleasure to amounce that it is equal to any other in the city. He still continues to manufacture his celebrated WIGS, which for beauty of appearance and fineness of material cannot be surpassed; in saying this much, he would call their attention to the fact that they are made immediately under his own supervision.—These who have not work or seem these Wigs would do well to call and examine for themselves. They will be found on inspection to be all that the most scrutnizing observer could wish. "His first quality" are made of the finest "natural corried hair," consequently they cannot lose their surf by perspiration, or the heat of a hot climate. In their form they are constructed so as to over no mere of the brow than the natural hair, and to hold to the head with greater tenacity of grasp than the generality of Wigs.
